Dear friends,

Greetings!!

Welcoming new children to our centre is always a joy. Over time, they become a part of our family, and every small achievement feels like a shared victory. That is why saying goodbye is never easy. Last week, we had to bid farewell to Senthamizh Velan, and it left us with a mixed feeling.

Velan joined us in April 2025. Diagnosed with severe cerebral palsy as an infant, his parents had spent years searching for help, visiting numerous hospitals and therapy centres. They came to know about our centre through other families and decided to give it a try.

Like many parents, Velan's mother believed that only sophisticated equipment and large rehabilitation facilities could bring about meaningful change. She was pleasantly surprised that through activity-based therapy, simple toys, and a caring environment, Velan began making steady progress.

One of the most unforgettable moments was when Velan stood with the support of a posterior walker for the first time. His mother's joy knew no bounds. She immediately recorded the moment and shared it with family members who had long believed that very little improvement was possible. The changes were small, but they brought something priceless—hope.

Beyond therapy, the warmth of the centre, the friendships, and the many small celebrations became a cherished part of the family's life. Velan looked forward to coming here, and so did his mother.

With the rising cost of city life and family responsibilities, the family recently decided to move back to their hometown. On his final day, Velan seemed to sense that this chapter of his journey was coming to an end. In his own special way, he expressed his affection and gratitude to everyone around him and there was hardly a dry eye in the room.

As a token of her gratitude, Velan's mother left us a heartfelt handwritten testimonial, which we are privileged to share with you alongside this story.

As we said goodbye, we do so with the satisfaction of having played a small part in Velan's journey and the sadness of not being able to witness the milestones that lie ahead. We are confident that he will continue to grow and thrive wherever he goes.

There are many more children like Velan at our centre, taking small but significant steps forward every day. Their progress is possible because of your generous support

Thank you for helping us create hope, celebrate milestones, and transform lives—one child at a time.

With best regards

Respected Madam,

I am writing this testimonial to express my deepest gratitude to the Sukriti Social Foundation. My son, Senthambharan, has been receiving physiotherapy here for the past one year. As we prepare to move back to our hometown, I want to share the incredible progress he has made under your care.

The changes we have seen in Senthambharan are truly remarkable. His drooling has reduced by almost 70%, and his understanding and cognitive levels have improved significantly. Most excitingly, he has started standing independently without any support for 1 to 5 seconds. He can also now stand against the wall for long duration and has begun taking steps forward.

We are incredibly thankful to the Founder (Mrs. Sowmiya Mam), the therapist (Amaranath sir, and Keerthi mam), Renuka Mam, and the entire team at Sukriti for their dedication, patience, and support. You have given our son a wonderful foundation for the future.

Thank you!

Yours truly

G. Shri
